

How to add Ecosia to your Google Chrome browser:

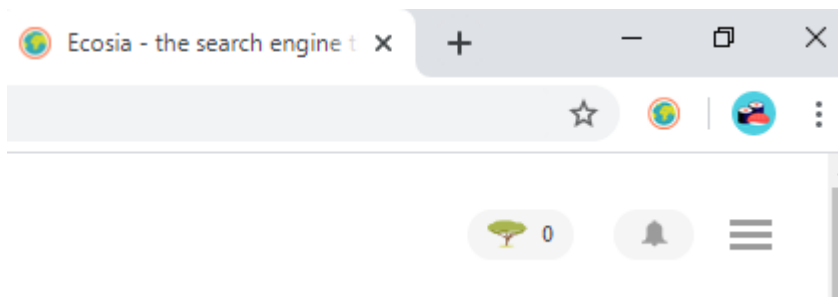

1. Search for Ecosia in your search engine.
2. Click on the link to www.ecosia.org
3. Once there, you will be prompted to 'add Ecosia to Chrome'.

4. This will redirect you to the Chrome Web Store where you need to click 'Add to Chrome'.

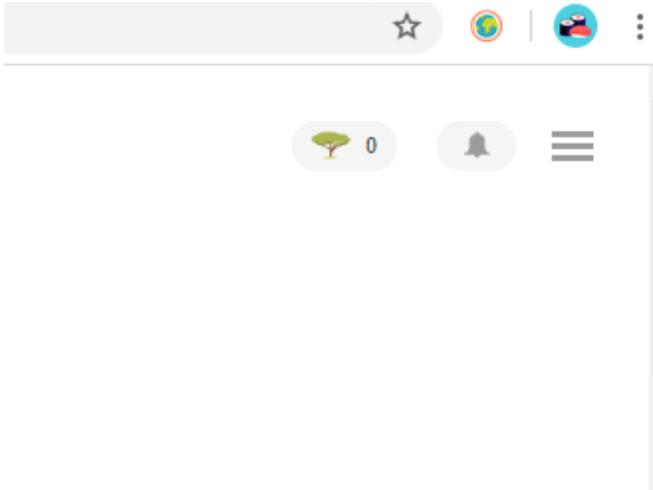

(This will create an Ecosia 'extension'; you will then see a little Ecosia symbol either next to or under your address bar.)

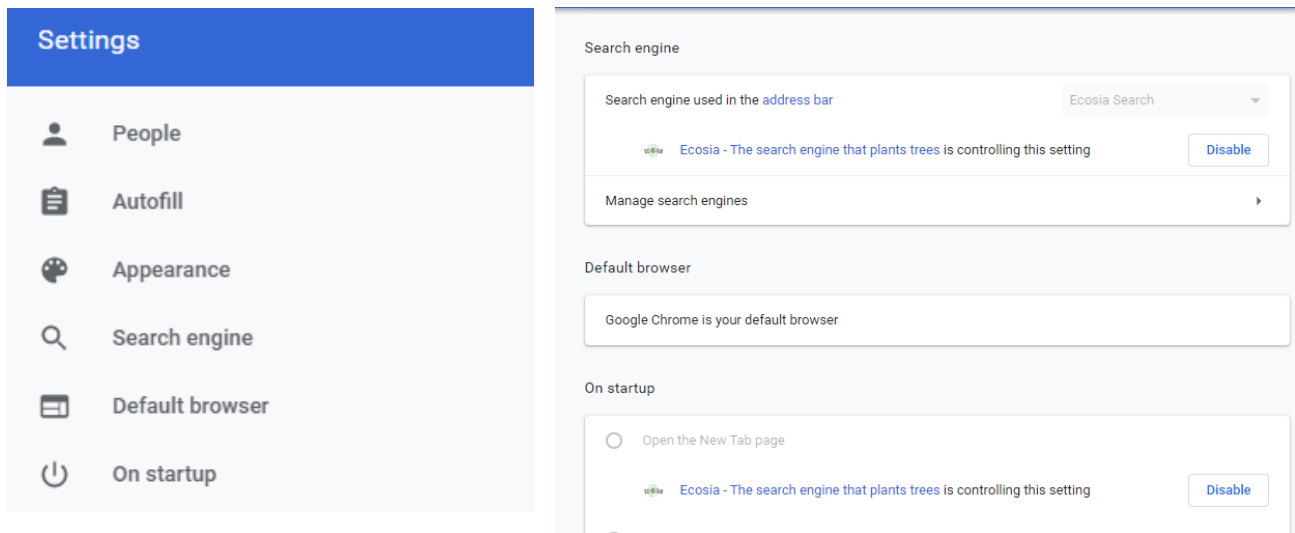

You are now planting trees whilst searching for things – woo hoo!

Note: In order for this to remain as your default search engine though, you will need to click the three dots at the top right of the Google Chrome page (just after the address bar).

Then choose settings then ensure that Ecosia is set as your default search engine, not Google Chrome.

To add Ecosia to your mobile phone or digital device, download it from the App store and use it instead of your other search engine app.
